WARWICK 2019

The Bond by Ken Lindsay. Best Individual Image 2018

Once again, we are Warwick University and, after our change of theatre in 2018, we are back in The Arts Centre Theatre. We first used The Arts Centre in 1989 and this will be our 31st year at Warwick. A great venue in central England, with improved facilities in 2019. In 1989 the battle was with transparencies but, for 11 years now, we have been using PDI. The Arts Centre has had a lot of work done, and this continues. The ground floor Café has gone and those who remember the Restaurant down to the right will find a new Café taking its place, with more seating. Those who cannot manage the stairs from the lobby to the Ticket Station will find a large Stairlift to transport you, as the old lift is no longer available. We have 6 trade stands at present, so please be prepared to support these sponsors and please buy plenty of Raffle Tickets.

Masters of Print Hall of Fame

Lynda Haney DPAGB BPE3*

I have been interested in photography, thanks to my Dad, for as long as I can remember, which incidentally is a very long time. I had a small dark room and loved creating prints. I still have my Yashica Mat -124G medium format camera.

Time constraints, due to family commitments and then training for a job in teaching, meant that I didn't do much photography for several years, but it was whilst I was teaching that my interest was rekindled in a big way. I was watching a colleague using Photoshop, the year was 1996 and the version of Photoshop was 4.0. I was fascinated by the way he was adding layers and creating something quite different from the original images. This prompted me to go out the very next day and buy my first digital camera.

I joined a camera club over ten years ago and started entering competitions steadily improving and working my way to winning trophies and becoming their Photographer of the Year. Then, a couple of years ago, I realised that I was losing interest. I was taking photographs for competitions rather than using my creativity, I needed a new direction. Fortunately I found it when I joined Warrington Photographic Society. I was enthused by their positive attitude towards entering external competitions, something I hadn't considered before, and I was helped and encouraged to become more creative and to do my own thing.

Many of my images are now composites and developing my own style has definitely helped me to gain acceptances and medals in both national and international exhibitions. Also a CPAGB last September, a DPAGB this year and an image accepted for the Masters of Print exhibition.

I'm looking forward to seeing what the next 12 months brings.

AWARDS FOR PHOTOGRAPHIC MERIT

Volume 7

What is required for CPAGB and DPAGB - and MPAGB

Volume 7 of the Awards for Photographic Merit Recorded Lecture is now available for Clubs to rent from the PAGB Recorded Lecture Service at -

<http://www.thepagb.org.uk/services/recorded-lectures/>

The show runs in two halves of slightly more than 30 minutes each

It contains over 200 successful pictures from 2017/18 with information about the voting system, providing an excellent entertainment, even for those not interested in the APM.

It contains pictures which Lynda used at CPAGB and for her DPAGB, and you can see how they scored at each level.

NEIL THOMAS CPAGB

More than half the photographs that have been submitted for an Award for Photographic Merit in recent years have been Nature, many of these are of very similar subjects. The Adjudicators are briefed to assess every picture on its merits but to consider what input the photographer has made to the photograph. This consideration of “photographer input” is not just for Nature but applies to all genre of entry. The quality of Nature work now seen in Clubs is very high and the pictures entered for an APM have to meet this high standard. You can see this below, in a recent successful application for CPAGB.

Masters of Print Hall of Fame

Jim Munday CPAGB EFIAP BPE3*

I had used SLRs in the 80s, but it wasn't until 2011 that I took the plunge and bought my first DSLR. Two years later I joined Yateley Camera Club which I found to be very friendly. I learnt a lot about photography from being a member and from entering their competitions. I was also encouraged to enter some of the BPE salons and, later, I discovered FIAP salons.

I had never seen a puffin until 2015, when I took a trip to the Farne Islands off the coast of Northumberland. "Safely Home" was taken a year later on Staple Island, where I had been watching puffins returning to their burrows. Quite often they were mugged on the way back by black headed gulls, but this one got through to feed its young. I was surprised and excited when I learned that it had been accepted in the first Masters of Print exhibition. To see it on the wall of a London gallery, with all the other great images, was a real thrill.

"Safely Home" >>

I grew up in a south coast seaside town, so I've always had a love of the sea and this has been a big influence on my photography. I enjoy all aspects of coastal photography from the stormy seas to calm long exposures and I get down to the coast to take photos whenever I can. I had wanted to go to Newhaven during a storm for many years, but something always seemed to get in the way until storm Eleanor last January, when I took "Port in a Storm". The conditions on that day were just about perfect, with high tide around midday, 50 mph wind gusts from the South West and heavy cloud with the sun breaking out periodically. It wasn't raining but there was a lot of spray in the air, so the camera had to be carefully wrapped up in a waterproof cover. I took over 500 photos during my time on the beach but when I got home this image leapt off the screen. I was pleasantly surprised when it was selected for the 2018 Masters of Print.

In anticipation of a house move back to the coast, I joined Chichester Camera Club this year where I am currently preparing for my DPAGB adjudication in November. I'm certain this next step will stretch me even further but, having had a print accepted in the first two Masters of Print exhibitions, the real challenge now is to find something different for this year's entry.

"FB Pearl 300 is very well suited to exhibition and competition work."

- Will Cheung, Photography News

"This is a media which ticks a great many boxes for those seeking a premium-quality surface with good fine art credentials."

- Mike McNamee, Professional Imagemaker

"This paper has absolutely no ink lay and no bronzing. Even twisting the surface to catch the worst light, it looks like a smooth lustre darkroom paper."
